PRESIDENTS' MESSAGE

By Jo Riester '66 & Sandy Tanner Elers '58

Private foundations, community organizations, generous donors, Fortune 500 corporations, small businessmen, interested alums, all have partnered to invest in educational opportunities through their gifts of time, talent, or treasure.

It is my hope that these connections continue to grow and expand, so that each student and teacher at CHS has the resources needed for success. It has been an honor to serve you as president over the last five years; and it is my joy to turn this column and Foundation over to our new president, Sandy Elers, who has been our trusty secretary since the Foundation's inception. Jo Riester '66

Hello! As your new president, I look forward to meeting more of our alums and interacting with the school on many projects. Our Band Challenge is fast becoming a success, thanks to generous donations from our alumni, especially former band members. Catalina has a new drop-out prevention counselor who has been working hard to refurbish her new rooms into a welcoming place for students in need. Kathi Shaw, our new principal, is delightful to work with and is hard to find only because she is out mingling with the students.

One afternoon when I was straightening up the Trojan Hall of Fame, a student came by and asked when our former principal, Rex Scott, would be inducted into the Hall. I was delighted he was aware of the importance of the Hall and pleased he would ask about Rex. FYI: school personnel have to be away from Catalina for two years before being eligible for nomination.

If you have questions or suggestions for projects, board members, or anything else, please get in touch with a member of the board. Your input is most welcome. If you are interested in being a board member or committee chairman or member, please let us know. We have a wonderful board and hope to expand it by several members soon. Come join the fun and satisfying work!

PAUL GRAY SELECTED ALUM OF THE YEAR

By Emily Kittle Morrison '60

Our 2014 Alum of the year, Paul Gray, is a member of the Class of 1960. He received a B.A., M.A., and PhD. from the U of A in electrical engineering. After graduation he worked for the R&D Lab at Fairchild Semiconductor in Palo Alto, Calif., and was involved in the application of new technologies for analog integrated circuits.

By 1971 he was asked to join the faculty of UC-Berkeley where he served as a professor in the Department of Engineering and Computer Sciences and in the Graduate School. Paul has authored over 150 journal articles, made many conference presentations, has published four books, and is the author or co-author of 14 patents.

Paul Gray & Emily Morrison Paul is a member of the National Academy of Electrical Engineering, and he has received many honors and awards, including the National Outstanding Researcher Award from the Semi-conductor Industry Association.

Before retiring in 2006, Paul served both as Vice Chancellor and Provost for UC-Berkeley, and most recently, he has served as Director of The Betty & Gordon Moore Foundation. It was through this connection that he was able to facilitate a generous donation to our CHSF scholarship fund which allowed for the funding of an additional scholarship for a Catalina student in the spring of 2014.

Paul holds honorary doctorates from the University of Bucharest in Romania, and the Swiss Federal Institute of Technology in Lausanne, Switzerland. "Dr. Gray has not only educated students nationwide about analog integrated circuits, but has been influential in the industry with his involvement of new technologies." He has served as a member of the National Academy of Engineering, the National Research Council Governing Board, and several corporate boards.

STAGGERING STUDENT STATISTICS

Catalina is not the school you knew when you were a student. Statistics have just been revealed about the current student population at Catalina.

The numbers show that there are 68 Youth on their Own students. YOTO is an organization which helps those who are living on their own by rendering assistance with rent, food, and other necessities. These students must attend school and maintain good grades.

There are 83 McKinney-Vento students who are defined as homeless by federal standards. They "lack a fixed, regular, and adequate nighttime residence."

Finally, 81 percent of Catalina students are on food assistance. In other words, they receive free lunches at school. For some, this is their only meal of the day.

As disturbing as these numbers are, there are people at Catalina who are tasked with supporting these youth. They engage these students so that their time in class is productive and their needs are met.

SUSAN CURTIS RESIGNS, RETIRES

For the last eight years, the CHS Foundation has depended on Susan Curtis, Catalina's Dropout Prevention Specialist, to alert the Foundation to the needs of all the refugee, homeless, and immigrant students attending Catalina.

She spoke to organizations making them aware of the plight of these students. Many of these organizations offered food (100 chickens at Christmas), clothing, school supplies, money, and even a huge refrigerator/freezer. She took food boxes to students' families who had a bare larder. She went into homes teaching refugee families how to use the fixtures in the bathroom and kitchen. She organized graduation parties for the students who couldn't afford to attend the school's after-graduation party. She gathered graduation gowns on loan to students who couldn't afford to buy them so they could walk with their classmates. She asked for tassels for their caps which they could keep. She always listened to her students, really listened to them. For many students, she was "Mother."

Last August Susan arrived to organize her office for the year's influx of students. She went to her computer to send emails and was surprised to find this message: "Access denied; contact your supervisor." She called her supervisor and was told she had been released. No explanation, just released.

Despite the efforts of the CHSF board and the new principal, TUSD could not get a grant to pay her. With sad hearts, board members said good-bye to Susan wishing her well in retirement. In her honor, the board voted unanimously to rename the fund account allotted for needy students as the Curtis Fund.

FOUNDATION INDUCTS FIVE ALUMNI

The CHS Foundation All-Alumni Social theme was "Spotlight on Our Stars" and the scene of the 2014 Trojan Hall of Fame induction. Four stellar individuals were chosen by a ten-person committee to be honored.

Ford Burkhart, Ph.D. (1959) is a Pulitzer Prize winning editor for The New York Times; had three Fulbright Fellowships to teach in Uganda, Malaysia, and Nigeria; is a retired UA professor of journalism; was head of the journalism department at the American University in Cairo, Egypt; and also has worked for the Los Angeles Times, the Miami Herald, and The Associated Press.

Paula Fan, DMA (1969) is a UA Regent's Professor, is principal pianist of the Tucson Symphony Orchestra, was a soloist on five continents; has performed with the Beijing Symphony, has recorded over nineteen albums; coordinates musical events at Biosphere 2; debuted in London in 1977 and New York in 1978; coaches opera singers from the world's greatest opera houses; and has broadcast on BBC, NPR, Radio/TV China, and other international stations.

Mary Hines was a Catalina coach from 1955 to 1985. She coached girls' volleyball before it officially became an interscholastic girls' sport; her team took the Arizona State volleyball championships in 1968, 1972, and again in 1984; many of her students became coaches; in 1985 she was named the National High School Athletics Coaches Association "Coach of the Year;" and as a tribute to her, the new Catalina gym was named in her honor in 1997.

Howard Post (1966) was the 1965 Arizona High School All-Around Rodeo Champion. He is now a premier award-winning Western artist whose paintings hang in many private collections, art museums, and corporate headquarters. His oils and pastels have appeared in a variety of exhibitions and have won many awards and honors. Recently he published a book of his various paintings entitled Howard Post: Western Perspectives. His work hangs locally in the Tucson Museum of Art. Still a cowboy at heart, he competes in amateur, senior, and pro rodeo events.

Paul Gray, Ph.D. (1960) is the Alum of the Year. The yearly winner for this prestigious award is selected by the CHS Foundation Board of Directors. Every Alum of the Year is automatically an inductee to the Trojan Hall of Fame. (A full story about Paul Gray can be found on page 1.)

Jenni Bond '66 was tapped as Volunteer of the Year.

Ford Burkhart, Post's son, Mary Hines, Jenni Bond, and Principal Kathie Shaw. (Paula Fan was on concert tour and could not attend.)

SEVEN ALUMNI STAND OUT AMONG PEERS

Catalina graduates have always stood out in a crowd, and this year is no exception. Six alumni have been selected for honors in various fields from sports to broadcasting, to business. Kudos to:

Jim Muzzy '57 has funded a classroom in McClelland Hall that will become a high-tech teaching and collaboration space for the Eller College of Business. This UA classroom will be named the Muzzy Lab.

Eugene Seymour, MD '58, founder of Nanoviricides, Inc. had the honor of ringing the opening bell on the New York Stock Exchange on August 16, 2014.

Thelma "Tee" Taylor '59 was inducted into the Pima County Sports Hall of Fame on October 26, 2014, for her skydiving expertise.

Ray Lindstrom '59 was inducted into the 2014 Arizona Broadcasting Hall of Fame on October 18.

Lucy Richardson Masterman '61 was featured in a magazine for her "Colorful Touch" as a watercolor artist. She is busy doing everything from calendars to postcards to commissioned paintings. She is working on a series of Tucson vintage motel signs.

Stacy Iveson '85 was named the new associate head coach for the UA softball team.

Don Cosgrove '87 was inducted into the Pima Sports Hall of Fame in October and in November he was inducted into the NJCAA Men's Soccer Hall of Fame.

If you, or a classmate, have received recognition, let the CHS Foundation know so that we can acknowledge your achievement. Your accomplishments encourage current students to seek new heights in education.

NEW PRINCIPAL INTRODUCES HERSELF

By Ms. Kathryn Shaw, CHS Principal

My name is Kathi Shaw, and I'm the new principal at Catalina High School beginning this school year 2014-2015. I have worked in TUSD for 25 years this December. I began as an elementary teacher, moved to teach middle school, and then onto high school as an Instructional Coach. My most recent position before Catalina was as the Assistant Principal for Teaching and Learning at Pueblo High School.

In April of 2014, Mr. Rex Scott, who I've known for several years and who I have tremendous respect for, called me after he knew the board was not going to renew his contract. He asked me to apply for the principal position, his words being, "If I have to leave, I can go with a better peace of mind if I know you are in charge." I can't thank Mr. Scott enough for making that phone call to me.

I fell in love with Catalina and its wonderful diversity, its tremendous extended community of supporters, and all the faculty and staff who give so much of themselves every day to support our children.

Catalina is part of a six school cohort working with the University of Virginia Darden School of Business. Their emphasis is on building strong leadership throughout the school and putting structures and systems into place that focus on using data to drive all decision making to improve student achievement. We are still in the learning phase of what being part of the UVA involves and I will share more with you later.

After talking with many stakeholders about what they wanted to see for the school year, almost to a person they said, we need a more academic environment. As an administrative team, with Mr. Holley and Mr. Madrid as my two incredible assistant principals, we eliminated hats inside the school, and cell phone use in the building except before school, in the cafeteria at lunch, and after school.

We set up guidelines as to where students could be and not be during the school day. We color coded bathrooms to discourage students from going wandering around campus. We are working vigilantly to find and prosecute drug users, and the message is spreading that you can't get away with this on Catalina's campus any more. We are sending the message that school is about academics.

Students always rise to expectations and it has been no different this year. Feedback from parents, students, faculty, and staff has been extremely positive. It is hard to follow in the footsteps of someone as loved as Mr. Scott, but as we finish this first semester, I know that Catalina High School is in a great place moving forward with so many exciting things to come.

ADVISORY BOARD ESTABLISHED

The purpose of the Advisory Board is to provide guidance to the Catalina High School Foundation Board in fulfilling the mission and goals of the Foundation, and to provide advice and expertise on issues, projects, and programs. The following people have accepted the invitation of the Board to serve: Kathleen Dannreuther '66, Pete Filliatreau '57, Bruce Grossetta '61, Mark Hanna, Sarah McCraren '91, Dana Murray '80, Dr. William Neubauer '66, and Bud Seaman '57.

These individuals will be available to assist the Board to fulfill its mission: To enhance the educational opportunities and cultural activities of the Catalina High School community.

FOUNDATION GIVEN PERMISSION TO PROCEED WITH CONFERENCE ROOM

It was a dream of the CHS Foundation to have a room where they could hold their meetings, some events, and give the school access to a venue for other activities. This dream has materialized due to the support and blessing of the Catalina administration.

Principal Kathie Shaw and Vice Principal Taz Holley worked to convince TUSD that this would be beneficial to the school to have such a room available.

Besides using the room for their monthly meetings, the Foundation would make the room available to teachers, counselors, students, and other school groups on a first come, first served basis.

Board members Emily Morrison, Sandy Ellers, Ken Newman, and Terry Anderson start the cleaning process for the conference room.

The CHSF Foundation Room will be repainted Royal blue and white and historic photos of Catalina will be hung. There is a small additional room to the west end of the conference room which will house storage for graduation gowns, social events equipment, shelving for the Foundation archives, and file cabinets to store other materials. Come and visit the room to see the transformation.

"LAST CHAIR TUBA" BAND CHALLENGE

by Emily Kittle Morrison '60

Who knew we had enough tubas in the Catalina band to have a "last chair?" But, this was the late 50s. Since then, one of our CHS alumni has thought fondly back to his days in the band (in this chair) and the memories he made. AND, he has generously requested the Foundation members (and friends, and CHS alumni, and former band members) to join him in providing needed funding for the current band program.

He has offered a "Challenge." If we can raise $5,000 by April 1st, 2015, he will personally send another $5000. His stipulation is only that the CHS band director meet with the "last chair tuba player" of the current band to decide how best to spend the funds. Since announcing this challenge at the Annual Fall Social last October, we have actually raised a bit over half that amount.

We're well on our way--but this is where YOU come in. Every little bit will help. Every one on our CHSF Board has personally stepped up as have many of our CHSF members. If this touches your heart and you'd like to be a part of making this happen, please send your check to: CHSF Band Challenge, c/o 6740 N. Calle Lomita, Tucson, AZ 85704 with a notation on the check "Band Challenge." Your help will be so appreciated by all of us, especially the students in the Catalina Trojan band.

DETROIT SYMPHONY VISITOR

Catalina graduate Robert S. Williams (Class of 1967) recently paid a visit to the students in the current band program. It was exciting for those in attendance to hear about his training in the very same musical program and going on to play in the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Williams, the 1967 John Philip Sousa Prize winner, brought his bassoon, and the band students were enchanted with his playing of a piece from "Peter and the Wolf." He played the musical segment of "Grandpapa" which features the bassoon. He also took the time to show them many things about his instrument and how he creates sound. As a result of this visit by a successful CHS graduate, the students began to raise they own sights for a possibility not yet considered.

Send your Band Challenge check made out to the Foundation to: CHS Band Challenge, 6740 N. Calle Lomita, Tucson, AZ 85704. This is tax-deductible to the extent of the law.

CORONADO ADVISES STUDENTS ABOUT COLLEGE AND SCHOLARSHIP CHOICES

By Michelle Coronado '15

My job as a MEC ambassador is to spread the word for Catalina students to pursue higher education, even into Ivy League colleges. The Metropolitan Education Commission (MEC) offers the Regional College Access Center (RCAC), a website, which fulfills a student's needs, especially during the senior year--a crucial time for college applications.

Although MEC has this great resource for students, hardly any of them are aware of this information.

RCAC carries information such as quick links to FAFSA, as well as lists of scholarships and colleges that can be a fit for any student. In addition, the website carries details of financial aid and the next steps that a student should take such as academic preparation and campus life.

By presenting the RCAC website to the College Bound Club and in classrooms, Catalina students will no longer have boundaries in achieving their educational goals. By reaching out as a student who is going through the college process, I can easily reach out and answer questions.

Being trained as a MEC ambassador, I am privileged to help my classmates and underclassmen toward the next chapter of their lives.

BURKHART FEATURED AT SPRING SOCIAL

The CHSF Spring Social is always a light-hearted affair which draws alumni for a morning of fun.

Ford Burkhardt '59 will be featured. He will regale us with snippets of his varied career in journalism which stretches from The New York Times and the Associated Press, to Uganda and Nigeria, to American University in Cairo, and finally to the University of Arizona's alumni magazine. He helped edit several projects that won Pulitzer Prizes. He also edited coverage of global science and medical issues like AIDS and climate change.

Three Fulbright Fellowships allowed him to travel to Africa and the Far East to teach. From 1967-69, he was a Peace Corps volunteer in Malaysia.

Spend the morning with a globe-trotting journalist who trod the halls of Catalina in his early years and later went on to trod the globe in search of the perfect story.

STUDENTS PEDAL FOR HABITAT

By Jo Riester '66

Seeking to involve more youth, a grant for the Indoor El Tour de Tucson was awarded by the Catalina Foundation to register ten construction trades students. Another $300 was sought to cover the donation portion of the fee.

Terry Anderson '57 wanted some ideas of how best to use his School Tax Credits. "Would you like to sponsor ten youth from Catalina?" inquired Jo Riester '66. His donation would complete the donation fee for the students. A check was written.

Escorted by their teacher Jack Draper, these construction trades students experienced the Habitat for Humanity concept of building homes for needy families through volunteering. They were so inspired by what they learned, each student said they wanted to volunteer in the future as well. Their skills would make them uniquely qualified.

For an hour, each student rode a stationary bike. Then they ate pizza, and were presented with a El Tour t-shirt and medallion which they wore proudly in their group photo.

The students experienced the gift of giving of their time and understanding the investment that others make in them. They are now able to be ambassadors for other families needing housing or rehab on their own homes, and learned about future volunteer opportunities. They were an important part of the over $16,500 raised in the Ride for Home which directly benefitted Habitat for Humanity in Tucson.

THANKS FROM THE CATALINA LIBRARY

By Kate Gallion, Catalina librarian

My name is Kate Gallion and it has been my pleasure to be the librarian at Catalina for four years now. My roots with Catalina go way back as my son, Tyler, graduated from Catalina with the class of 2008. So it was a thrill for me to come back here to work at the same school.

In previous years, the schools always had some budget to purchase and update supplies, books, magazines, and DVDs for the students and staff to use. Unfortunately, most budgets have been cut and we have had our supply budget eliminated for the past three years. So the problem then becomes how do we keep our library up to date and bring in books the students want and need to read?

The library has been fortunate to have the Catalina Foundation to help support us. They have provided us with grant money ($500.00) for new books. While $500.00 may not seem like much to some, we work really hard finding the best prices for books to buy. It makes it nice for us to not have to visit Bookman's a dozen times to try and find books that the students request, or the next book in a series that they are eager to read. In addition it gives us the opportunity to purchase brand new books, and don't we think all students need new books in their hands sometimes? And I love the smell of a new book, don't you? Or is that just a librarian thing?

Thank you, Catalina Foundation for always looking for ways to support the staff and students at Catalina! You are so appreciated!

FOCUS EDITOR REQUESTS FEEDBACK

By Margie Wagner Fangmeier '58

This is the 15th issue of the Foundation Focus that I have edited since the CHS Foundation was established in 2007, and I would like some feedback from the readership. I am not a journalist by profession, but I did serve on the Trojan Trumpeteer staff my senior year. Your comments will help me to improve this newsletter which comes to you twice a year.

Your thoughts about the content and format would be appreciated. How would you improve the newsletter? Is there an area that you feel has not been addressed?

I welcome suggestions for stories, or even your own stories (memories of high school events or a particular teacher), would be appreciated.

Email your comments, positive and/or negative, to delfang@cals.arizona.edu.

SAVE THE DATE: Spring Social - March 21 at 10. See page 8 for more information. See you there.
